National Park Concept

When the Yellowstone National Park was established in the Rocky Mountains in 1872, no one could have imagined that this would lay the foundation for a global vision: the National Park Concept. The National Park Concept means preserving outstanding natural landscapes for us and future generations, while also making them accessible and experienceable for people.

The Hohe Tauern National Park, covering 1,856 km<sup>2</sup>, is the largest national park in the Alps, featuring pristine nature and a cultural landscape that has evolved over centuries. It stretches from approximately 1,000 meters above sea level to the summit of the Großglockner at 3,798 meters. For over a century, people around the world have passionately carried forward the National Park Concept.

The staff of the National Park Administration wish all visitors to the Hohe Tauern National Park the same enthusiasm.

General Information about Guided Ranger Tours

Requirements: The following tours are divided into three levels of difficulty for easier orientation and assessment. A good physical condition and a certain level of basic fitness are essential for all guided excursions. The distances provided are approximate and indicate the round-trip distance.

The meaning of the symbols listed on the following pages:

	easy summer excursion	children from 7 years old	Hike without steep sections on wide hiking trails, sport or light trekking shoes are sufficient.
	moderate summer excursion	children from 10 years old	Hikes, whose destinations are usually above the valley floor, on well-developed hiking trails with switchbacks. Hiking or mountain boots with treaded soles are required.
	challenging summer excursion	children from 10 years old	Mountain hikes that lead above the tree line, with destinations accessible via climbing paths in sometimes steep terrain. Hiking or mountain boots with good treaded soles are required.
	excursions with special requirements		Long, endurance tours on challenging paths and in unmarked, alpine terrain. Good fitness, a fear of heights-free condition, and surefootedness are required – led by a certified mountain and ski guide.

Visitor Concept in the National Park

The National Park features a network of high-quality interactive visitor and educational facilities that enhance the visit to the protected area and deepen knowledge about the Hohe Tauern National Park.

Everyone has a different approach to exploring new terrain. Whether in a group or on personal (learning) paths, whether at a brisk pace or a more leisurely stroll. The visitor concept in the Hohe Tauern National Park is designed to cater to individuality. To this end, we offer our visitors:

- ▶ „Meet a Ranger“ and information huts in the national park valleys
- ▶ Guided Ranger tours
- ▶ Themed trails
- ▶ Interactive exhibitions

„Meet a Ranger“ in the Salzburg National Park Valleys

Who doesn't know this? You're hiking in nature and come across animals and plants you'd love to learn more about. It's helpful when you come across a National Park Ranger in such cases. With „Meet a Ranger“, you'll gain valuable insights firsthand from a Ranger:

When?	In which Valley can I meet the Ranger?
Mo	„Meet a Ranger“ Wildgerlostal „Meet a Ranger“ Stubachtal – Rudolfshütte „Meet a Ranger“ Fuschertal – Großglockner Hochalpenstraße „Meet a Ranger“ (Rauriser) Hüttwinkltal/Kolm Saigurn „Meet a Ranger“ Gasteinertal – Sportgastein/Nassfeld

National Park information huts at the valley entrances

In the summer months, our information huts at the valley entrances of the National Park are staffed from the Wildgerlostal to Muhr in Lungau.

Our Junior Rangers are available to assist visitors with advice and help. They offer tips on the highlights of Austria's largest national park, provide local hiking information, supply up-to-date maps, and give details on MEET A RANGER meeting points.

Themed Trails in the National Park

Themed trails in the Salzburg National Park valleys invite visitors to independently explore the natural and cultural treasures of this unique landscape. Along the educational trails, you'll find information on various topics at different stations right on site. A brief description of our themed trails, from the Krimmler Achental to the Murtal, can be found starting on page 48.

The respective difficulty level is indicated – just like our guided tours – with one, two, or three "hiker icons" (legend on page 4), so every visitor knows in advance if the themed trail is suitable for their fitness level.

Out and About with National Park Rangers

This summer, locals and visitors once again have the opportunity to experience the Hohe Tauern National Park on a guided hiking tour.

Ranger tours

- ▶ Our weekly ranger tours are offered with varying levels of difficulty, making it easy to find the ideal tour to match your own fitness level.
- ▶ To take part, registration is required:
Details for online registration are provided directly in the tour descriptions.
- ▶ Holders of the Summer Card or Guest Card can enjoy free participation in many of the weekly tours. The card must be presented to the ranger upon request.
- ▶ Regardless of whether you hold a Summer Card or Guest Card, the following tours require a participation fee:
  - Kitzsteinhorn-Explorer-Tour
  - Glocknerbus Excursion
  - A Journey into the Tauern Window/Show Mine

Explorer Tour and Guided Tour through the National Park Gallery

An experience for the whole family, with fascinating stories, spectacular panoramic cable car rides, and easy hikes.

The underground attraction offers fascinating insights into alpine geology and the history of the national park. The Hochfeld Show Mine, a rarity in the Hohe Tauern, is made accessible to visitors through guided tours and explanations. For example, the tectonic structure of the Tauern Window and rock exposures can be clearly demonstrated and understood.

Environmentally friendly arrival by public transportation

Environmentally conscious people sometimes give their cars a break and happily switch to public transportation. We think that's great! That's why we've adjusted the starting times of the following ranger tours to coincide with bus arrival times.

As of May 2025, overnight guests in the state of Salzburg ave even more reason* to use public transport to join our ranger tours and national park exhibitions. With the new Guest Mobility Ticket, they can travel for free, in an eco-friendly and relaxed way, to many natural attractions.

Railway experience between the Pinzgau Grass Mountains and the Hohe Tauern National Park

The perfect way to travel: comfortable and eco-friendly

Those who travel by train and use the Pinzgau Local Railway as their means of transport actively support the national park region. Train travelers produce less noise, fewer emissions, and help protect the climate. They contribute to keeping this attractive holiday destination beautiful and sustainable. After all, those who travel by car are already carrying several kilograms of CO<sub>2</sub> in their backpack.

Since 1898, the narrow-gauge railway has wound its way through the Upper Pinzgau. Both modern and nostalgic trains run along the route between Zell am See and Krimml. ⚠️ Due to flood damage, the Pinzgau Local Railway is currently operating only between Zell am See and Mittersill. From there, a rail replacement service runs to Krimml until further notice.

Rauris Primeval Forest

The forest in its original form

Our tour takes us past dark moor puddles, towering trees, and tall stone pines. Romantic clearings next to ancient spruce and larch forests make the landscape appear like a green jungle during the hike. The ranger will share the unique features of this natural gem in the Rauris Valley's head. After leaving the primeval forest, the hike continues past the "Naturfreundehaus Kolm Saigurn" and along the access road back to the starting point at the "Lenzanger" parking lot.

Into the valley of emeralds

Bramberg Treasure Chamber

This tour along the Emerald Path leads us to the "Almgasthof Alpenrose". The ranger will share insights about the unique features of the U-shaped valley and the green, glittering treasure beneath the earth: the valuable emeralds. You'll also learn how gem hunting works and where it is allowed. Nature observations are also part of the experience – with a bit of luck, you may spot a golden eagle or marmots. If you're feeling tired after the tour, you can take the "Smaragd taxi" back to the Habachtal parking lot.

Educational trail Seebachsee

Idyllic mountain forests and alpine meadows

From the Hopffeldboden parking lot, we take a taxi to the "Berndlalm". From there, the tour leads us past the Poschalm and the Munau – a species-rich wet meadow – through idyllic mountain forests to the picturesque Seebachsee at 2.083 meters above sea level. Enjoy the peace and beauty of the alpine landscape while learning more about the local flora and fauna. The return route takes us down across alpine pastures to the forest road, where we hop back into the taxi for a comfortable ride to our starting point at the Hopffeldboden parking lot.

Trip to the Arctic

High alpine – and yet so close

The tour begins at 2.311 meters above sea level, right next to the "Berghotel Rudolfshütte". Together with the ranger, we hike uphill toward the "Weißsee" and continue on to the Eissee, where you can see the edges of the Sonnblick Glacier. Along the way, you'll learn fascinating facts about how animals and plants adapt to life in the high mountains. The return route takes us back to the Rudolfshütte, where there is the option to stop for refreshments and where the guided tour officially ends. For those seeking a challenge, it's also possible to hike down to "Enzingerboden" instead of taking the cable car.

Hike to lake "Schödersee"

A special one among the mountain lakes

On this tour, we will hike along a forest road until we reach "Ötzlsee" after approximately 2 km. From there, a narrow path, running parallel to the Schöderbach stream, takes us deeper into the heart of the Hohe Tauern National Park. Upon reaching our destination – "Schödersee" – we will learn from the ranger about this unique mountain lake. As the only periodic lake in the national park, it is only filled with water during the snowmelt and after heavy rainfall. We will return via the same route.

Sulzbachtäler Wilderness Area

Across pathless terrain

Immerse yourself in the pristine wilderness with a ranger and experience a landscape untouched by humans.

Exclusive insights into a world-class protected area of IUCN category IUCN Ib.

This excursion takes you along hidden paths into the heart of the wilderness area of the Sulzbachtäler to the Untersulzbachkees glacier.

Starting from the meeting point, the group takes the National Park bus to "Abichlalm", where the tour begins. Initially, the path leads through a light larch forest along a marked trail to "Aschamalm". From there, we venture off-trail into the heart of the Sulzbachtäler wilderness area towards the Untersulzbachkees. The untouched nature of this area and the pioneer vegetation in the glacier forefields will leave a lasting impression. The return journey follows the same route, along the roaring Untersulzbach river, over large boulders, back to the starting point.

Wed every Wednesday
July 9th – August 27th, 2025

Participation is only possible with prior registration by 3.00 pm the day before.

Kings of the Skies

Krumltal – Into the Valley of the Vultures

We start our observation tour at the Krumltal information hut and hike along the Krumlbach stream further into the Krumltal valley. The ranger will share interesting information about the large birds of prey. During brief stops, telescopes will be set up to scan the mountain ridges for the birds. With some luck, we may observe bearded vultures, griffon vultures, monk vultures, golden eagles, chamois, and ibexes. The return journey follows the same route back to the starting point.

Schösswendklamm and Hintersee

Exploring the Felbertal Valley

At the valley floor near the "Schösswendklamm", powerful water masses have been carving their way through solid rock for thousands of years. This has created impressive erosion features, potholes, and small waterfalls. Following the gorge, the hike continues to the Hintersee, where you'll learn interesting facts about the flora and fauna of the upper "Felbertal". On the lake's northern shore, the circular trail leads to a small hill offering a panoramic view of the valley head, framed by dramatic rock walls where chamois can often be spotted. The return follows the same path.

Hollersbach Stream Educational Trail

Mosses, ferns, and lichens

On this guided tour, we follow the rushing Hollersbach stream along the educational trail to the Senningeralm. The path leads us through a natural grey alder forest, where mosses, ferns, and the impressive butterbur with its large leaves thrive. With a bit of luck, we may spot white-throated dippers – the only diving songbirds – at work in, on, or around the mountain stream. Before reaching the alpine inn, we pass historic dry stone walls, and finally, the valley opens up into a vast alpine meadow landscape at the "Senningeralm".

Krimml Waterfalls

The highest waterfalls in Austria

Starting from the Krimml Tourist Information (TVB Krimml), the hike takes us along the historic ascent on the left side of the waterfalls. As we climb, you'll enjoy breathtaking views and learn fascinating facts from the ranger about the historic trade route as well as the local flora and fauna. After overcoming all the cascades and a total drop of 385 meters, we reach the entrance to the Krimml Achental valley. ## Hike to the Source of the Mur River

To the source of a European river

Starting from the Muritzen parking lot, we begin our hike that takes us to the source of the Mur in the heart of the Murtal valley, at 1.898 meters above sea level. We follow the hiking trail upstream, passing moorland meadows. After reaching the Stickler Hut, we continue along the small stream that meanders through the U-shaped valley and eventually swells into the second-longest river in Austria. Once we reach the source, we take a well-deserved break before returning along the same route to the starting point.

Natural jewel "Wiegenwald"

Rustic, beautiful, and highly sensitive

From the valley station of the "Weißsee Gletscherwelt", the hike takes you through the primeval Wiegenwald forest up to the "Schwarze Lacke" lake. Along the way, visitors will learn about the plants, trees, and animals native to the region. Moor puddles along the path invite you to take a rest. Beautiful views of the surrounding mountains and reflections of this breathtaking scenery line the way. The tour ends with the ranger at the starting point at the valley station/Enzingerboden.

National Day Tour: "Lachalm-Höhenweg"

A valley taxi brings participants to the "Lahneralm" in the Hollersbach Valley. Right at the beginning, most of the elevation gain is made uphill to the "Lach-Grundalm". Afterwards, the "Lachalm Höhenweg" (Alp Trail) follows a gentle descent through vast, autumnal alpine meadows, returning to the starting point (Berghof). The tour is rewarded with fantastic views of the mountains of the Hollersbach Valley. For strong hikers, a summit climb to the Platte (1.787 m) is also possible.

Untersulzbachkees – Glacial landform treasures in the wilderness area

After taking the national park bus to Abichlalm, a marked trail leads to Aschamalm. From here, some pathless terrain must be crossed. Heading inward from the "Saukopf", the vegetation in the glacier forefields is particularly fascinating. After the long ascent, a harness and crampons are put on at the edge of the Untersulzbachkees. One of the last beautifully preserved glacier tongues in the Eastern Alps, with ice tables, moulin holes, ogives, and cryoconite holes, can be admired up close during the traverse of the ice. The descent follows the same route.

Kratzenberg Saddle – from Innerschläß to Hollersbach

From the meeting point in Mittersill, a taxi takes the group to Innerschläß. The hike initially follows a wide alpine path deeper into the valley. Along the banks of the Viltragenbach stream, the trail and the valley become narrower. After climbing some pathless elevation, the last remnants of the glacier must be crossed to reach the Kratzenberg Saddle. If conditions allow, the ascent continues along the south ridge to the summit. The return route leads—with harness and crampons—across the remains of the Kratzenberg Glacier, past Kratzenberg Lake and the Fürther Hut, and down to the base station of the material cableway. A taxi then returns the group to Mittersill.

Bettler Saddle – from the "Berndlalm" into the Untersulzbach Valley

The taxi takes the group from the meeting point to the Berndlalm. The trail, which leads through alpine meadows, becomes increasingly narrow and steep on the way up to the pass. After the final, very steep ascent, there's an opportunity to rest at the scenic Bettlerscharte (2.002 m). The descent to the Finkalm requires very sure footing. In the steep forested section, parts of the trail are secured with ropes. The remaining path to the historic show mine is much easier to hike. From there, the group returns together to the starting point.

Via the Grießkogel to the Hocheiser

The mountaineering bus takes the group up to Mooserboden early in the morning. The hike begins with a marked trail that gains some elevation toward the Kleiner Grießkogel. From there, the terrain becomes more challenging. The route to the Großer Grießkogel includes a boulder field and a short climbing section. The final ascent to the Hocheiser (3.206 m) involves crossing the Upper Hocheiser Glacier with crampons. A long, unmarked but scenic and solitary descent follows. From Enzigerboden, a taxi takes the group back to the Kesselfall parking garage.

Larmkogel – crossing the 3.000-meter peak from the Habach Valley into the Hollersbach Valley

After a ride with the valley taxi, the tour begins leisurely along the stream behind the Moaralm. The narrow and exposed "Noitroi" trail then winds through the steep slopes of the upper Habach Valley to the Thüringer Hütte. From there, the path becomes increasingly steep, leading up to the Larmkogel Saddle. The final meters to the summit cross (3,017 m) are partly unmarked and secured with ropes. ## Brandl Saddle – Crossing from Kaprun to Fusch

From the meeting point, the trail immediately enters a light mixed forest. After crossing the tree line, the path becomes more exposed, winding through very steep grassy slopes in a few turns until reaching the Brandlscharte (2.371 m). With views of the Fuschertal valley and the north face of the Hohe Tenn, a short, steep section must be crossed to descend to the Gleiwitzer Hut (2,176 m). Little is left to see of the Hirzbach Glacier at this point. The path becomes easier and wider after passing the Hirzbachalm.

Grünkar Saddle – from Ferleiten to Bad Fusch

From the meeting point, we take a taxi to Ferleiten, where we begin our tour. The marked trail to Durcheckalm passes through a steep forest of spruce and larch trees. Above the tree line, the expansive alpine meadows offer a beautiful view of the highest peaks in the Fuschertal valley. From the alpine meadows of the Höllbachgraben to the Grünkarscharte, a short, very steep grassy slope must be crossed. At the pass, depending on fitness and weather conditions, there is an option to summit Schwarzkopf or directly descend towards Bad Fusch.

Themed trails in the Hohe Tauern National Park

Embark on an independent exploration of the Salzburg National Park valleys and discover fascinating information on various topics.

Peace Trail "Alpine Peace Crossing"

The peace plaques Concern, Hope, Confidence, Longing, Relief and Peace along the historic escape route of the Jewish Exodus of 1947 serve as a reminder of those events in four languages – German, English, Italian, and Hebrew. Trail length: approximately 35 km, sturdy footwear/mountain boots required.

Krimmler
Achenal

June to September

approx. 10 h
(Krimml to Kasern)

Themed Trail "Seebach"

In 2015, the circular trail to Seebachsee, starting from the Hopffeldboden parking lot, was equipped with informative signage. For the "Seebachrunde", the ascent via Seebachalm is recommended. The descent follows the "Munau" to the Berndlalm, continuing to the Kampriesen-Alm. Finally, the trail leads back to the Hopffeldboden parking lot.

Obersulzbach
Valley

June to October

approx. 5,5 h
(loop)

Energy Educational Trail "Postalm"

This thematic trail addresses a current and prominent topic: climate protection. Several stations explain important aspects, and the energy-saving concept of the shelter itself demonstrates how active climate protection can be integrated into daily life.

Obersulzbach
Valley

June to October

approx. 1 h
(loop)

Glacier Educational Trail Obersulzbach Valley

The goal of this thematic trail is to illustrate how the length, area, and volume of the glacier have changed since 1850. The trail starts at the Obersulzbach Hut and takes interested hikers past several information boards, leading to the glacier lake of the former Turkish tent village. Sure-footedness, weatherproof clothing, and sturdy footwear are required.

Geological Educational Trail

From the "Gasthof Schütthof" (Sulzau/Neukirchen), the hike follows the impressive natural monument, the Untersulzbach Waterfall, to the historic National Park Mining Museum Hochfeld. Several information boards provide detailed descriptions of the geology of the Hohe Tauern as well as the development of mining in the Untersulzbach Valley. Sturdy footwear required.

Emerald Trail Habachtal

This thematic trail offers eleven stations along the dusty stream, allowing visitors to explore local minerals, the legend of the Fazenwand, and the search for the green fire. Along the way, the geology of the Hohe Tauern and the Habachtal is vividly explained, with a focus on the important rocks of the valley. Sturdy footwear recommended.

Stream Educational Trail Hollersbach

Following the course of the rushing Hollersbach stream, the trail leads inward through a gray alder forest. The educational trail focuses on life around and in the mountain stream. In the idyllic landscape at the valley floor, visitors can learn interesting facts about the local flora and fauna. The trail starts at the entrance to the Hollersbachtal and ends at the Wirtsalalm. Sturdy footwear recommended.

Glacier Themed Trail Stubachtal

The family-friendly high-altitude thematic trail, equipped with information boards, leads over the forefield of the Sonnblick Glacier to the terminal moraines of the glacier. In this high mountain landscape, visitors can observe the influence of the once mighty glaciers on nature and the surrounding environment. The starting point is the Berghotel Rudolfshütte. Sturdy footwear/mountain boots required.

Nature Experience Trail Käfertal

The starting point is the Tauernhaus parking lot at the Ferleiten toll station. From there, a service road leads inward through the valley to the Trauneralm at 1.522 meters above sea level. Information boards along the way highlight the unique features of the Fuschertal and the rich biodiversity of Käfertal. The trail is accessible for strollers, and there are exciting, interactive stations for children along the way.

Themed Trail "Rauris Primeval Forest"

In 2014, this educational trail was awarded the title of "Best Thematic Trail in Austria". Starting from the Lenzanger parking lot, it winds through numerous peat bogs, acid grasses, and sedge plants. Several information boards and a small forest museum provide insights into the geological formation of this area, as well as the diverse fauna and flora. Insect protection is recommended.

Themed Trail "Kings of the Skies"

The easy and family-friendly hike starts at the Krumltal parking lot and leads through a natural spruce forest into the valley. Along the way, informational boards provide interesting facts about bearded vultures, griffon vultures, and golden eagles. Due to the very steep slopes of the valley, remnants of avalanche cones are often visible until summer.

Themed Trail "In the Realm of Facets"

On this new thematic trail – which complements the exhibition "In the Realm of Facets" in Wörth/Rauris with information stations in the Seidlwinkltal – hikers are encouraged at informative stations to consciously observe their surroundings according to different criteria and search for traces along the way that hide fascinating information.

Themed Trail "Nassfeld"

The Nassfeld thematic trail is located at the end of the Gastein Valley, Nassfeld, and starts directly at the information hut of the Hohe Tauern National Park. Visitors receive information on topics such as geology, the water as a vital resource, wildlife, and alpine flora, which are characteristic of the Gasteiner Nassfeld. A spectacular view of the entire Nassfeld is guaranteed!

Themed Trail "On the Alpine Pasture"

The Hohe Tauern National Park has not only protected the untouched natural landscape but also the cultural landscape created by humans over centuries. Starting from the Talwirt (1.040 m), a hiking trail leads to the Modereggalm (1.720 m). Along the thematic trail, visitors will learn interesting facts about the cultural landscape of the national park.

Themed Trail "Back to the (M)URSPRUNG"

The thematic trail has been complementing the exhibition „(M)URSPRUNG – Nature in Flow“ in the municipality of Muhr in Lungau since the summer of 2021. The informative educational path starts at the Muritzen parking lot, takes visitors through the impressive landscape of the Murtal, and ends at the majestic Mur spring, which is known as a true power spot and invites visitors to recharge.

National Park Worlds Mittersill

The National Park Worlds spark the desire to discover the fascinating nature of the Hohe Tauern for oneself. They also allow visitors to travel with all their senses to places, eras, and areas that are otherwise inaccessible to humans. In the "Glacier World", a 6,000-year-old pine disc points to the condition of the Pasterze Glacier during the Neolithic period. A replica of a sea dinosaur in the "Peaks from the Sea Floor" world demonstrates that, 150 million years ago, a tropical sea covered the Hohe Tauern region. The "Water Kingdom" highlights the region's water abundance, with 500 mountain lakes, 800 moors, and streams. A large-scale installation shows visitors the journey of a water droplet.

"In the Realm of Facets" in Rauris/Wörth

The Rauris Valley is often referred to as the hidden gem of the Hohe Tauern National Park, as it particularly showcases the diverse nature of the Alpine region – a characteristic that inspired the name of the new exhibition.

The animal, plant, and human worlds are explored in their long-evolved habitats and in the interplay between them, highlighting the unique features of the Rauris Valley.

"Emeralds & Crystals" at the Bramberg Museum

Visitors can marvel at a true treasure chamber of the Hohe Tauern, as this National Park exhibition – located in the basement of the Bramberg Museum – showcases stunning crystal treasures renowned for their rarity and uniqueness. The province of Salzburg is characterized by an especially rich variety of minerals, owing to its complex geological structure. Emeralds, rock crystals, fluorites, titanites, adularias, epidotes – a wide range of minerals can be found in a relatively small area. The mineral treasures on display are sure to leave visitors in awe. We also recommend visiting the cultural exhibition „People and Culture,“ which offers insight into traditional crafts, customs, art, and life in earlier times.

"On the Alpine Pasture – Between Heaven & Earth" in Hüttschlag

"Why do alpine pastures exist, and what do people actually do up there?" – these and similar questions are answered in this exhibition.

This National Park exhibition explores the interaction between untouched nature and the ancient cultural landscape of the alpine pastures, shaped by human activity. Ecological relationships, mutual influences, as well as benefits and challenges are presented here in an engaging and educational way.

The interactive exhibition also includes the existing National Park exhibition "Secrets of the Mountain Forest", which is located in the same building as the Talwirt and has been thematically and spatially integrated.
