Description: The tour begins at the information hut at the Lenzanger parking area (meeting point). From there, the hike passes dark moor pools, towering trees, and tall Swiss stone pines. Romantic clearings among old spruce and larch forests make the landscape appear like a green jungle during the tour. The ranger provides visitors with insights into the special features of this natural gem at the end of the Rauris Valley. After leaving the primeval forest, the hike continues past the Naturfreundehaus Kolm Saigurn and returns to the starting point via the forest road.
