Description: Before the walk begins, a taxi service will take the group to the Lenzanger car park. From there you will start the walk with the national park ranger – the moon will soon be shining brightly. After a short walk through the forest, you will find yourself in a quiet glade where you can enjoy watching the full moon. The trail then slowly descends along a path towards winter pastures and an inn. This is where the winter snowshoe hike ends – you can choose to follow the ranger back to the car park or spend the evening in the cosy atmosphere of the inn.
