Description: The highest point of the Glocknerstraße serves as an ideal starting point for a tour with beautiful spring snow descents in the Rauris section of the National Park. The tour begins with a long traverse over the Tauernkopf, Roßscharte, and Weißenbachscharte, leading to the Hinteres Modereck. After a scenic break, the length of the descent towards the north can be adjusted based on the conditions and your endurance. The elevation lost on the descent towards Seidlwinkltal must then be regained on the way back to the Weißenbachscharte. This is definitely a great tour to wind down the ski touring season.
